Attorney Misses Third Hearing

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Thomas T. Crittenden, 57, La Mesa attorney, failed to appear Tuesday morning for his sanity hearing at the county hospital and Superior Court Judge Eli H. Levenson issued a $5,000 bench warrant for his arrest.

Crittenden is undergoing proceedings to ascertain whether he should be committed to a state hospital, as recommended by two county psychiatrists. The proceedings arose out of a petty theft charge he is accused of in La Mesa.

Tuesday Crittenden's brother Phillip told Judge Levenson that he is ready to give Crittenden $30,000 for a piece of land they and another brother own in downtown San Diego.

Crittenden claims that he is indigent and has had a court appointed attorney, William Shifflet of El Cajon. After the brother's remarks, Shifflet asked for and received permission to withdraw from the case.

Crittenden has missed three other sessions. He was brought in once on a $500 bench warrant which was later cancelled.

Board Approves Prayer In Spring Valley Schools

Youngsters in Spring Valley and La Mesa schools will be permitted to say prayers in classrooms as long as it is not a part of the school program, La Mesa-Spring Valley school trustees decided Monday night.

By a 3-2 vote following an hour and three-quarters session attended by more than 300 spectators, the resolution was made by Trustee Robert Andreen and approved by Trustees Margaret Burnett, William Johnston, and Andreen.

Dr. Gyril Padfield, board chairman and Trustee Anna Dewey, opposed the resolution.

The resolution will permit the saying of prayers as long as they are voluntary and originated by students.

The resolution in essence, was:

1. Students shall be allowed during the school day to say prayers or graces which are the result of their own volition or the admonition of their parents.
2. There shall be no prayers or other religious exercises used as a part of the school program
3. Our teachers should have no hestitancy teaching about religion. We urge them to be reminded of the contribution of religion to our society through history, art and ethics.

Bright Economy Seen Here By BofA Executive

There is nothing but good times ahead for the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley areas, one of the top bankers told the L.G. Men's club Friday.

Charles Victory, regional vice president for public relations and business development for the Bank of America's 41 branches in San Diego, spelled out the pathways to an improving economy here.

He reported that San Diego's increase in bank deposits in December (up $140 million or 13%) was greater than in Los Angeles (up 7.4%) compared with the previous year.

What's more, loans in S.D. were up $100 million for the same month. "That kind of action indicates a strong, growing economy," he said. In Lemon Grove, deposits were $26 million in December. Projected against its 25,000 population, Lemon Grove appears one of the more affluent communities in the county, he explained.

He also pointed out that real estate recordings were approaching boom proportions. "The 2,900 recordings in December (SD city and county) were more than 800 higher than last year. In the Spring Valley, La Mesa, Lemon Grove area, 77 more transactions were recorded than the year before," he said.

Department store sales are up dramatically, Victory reported. How much prosperity there is in the county is shown by the economic index of 100 set for the "prosperous" 1957-1959 years. The index stands at 117.7 now, he said. It has never been below 114 since 1959. 121 was high. San Diego isn't far from its peak right now, he said.

Tourism is providing steady upward pressure on the economy with Centre City and the Sea World development adding to the impetus. "There is no place for the economy to go but up," he added.

He also had a good word for incorporation. "It does not follow that cityhood brings city taxes," he said, and cited Bellflower as a happy, strong community without a city tax burden. "Incorporation brings taxes back into the coffers of the community," Victory said. "This money can be used for community development." He said a nonenity community could gain a strong entity and togetherness when a city is formed.

He suggested that Lemon Grove as a city, could place emphasis on farm produce with sales targeted for San Diego. "At present, produce grown in San Diego is shipped to L.A. and reshipped to San Diego by refrigerated cars. Only one market group buys its produce in San Diego county," he said. "It is idiotic to add the two-way shipping costs and lose the freshness of the vegetbales, too," he said. But such foolishness could provide a ready market for a Lemon Grove farm industry, should it be wanted," he concluded.

Earlier in the meeting, John Dail was elected president at the annual election. John Bridger succeeded Dail as vice president. Ken Rister was re-elected treasurer and Larry Scott was elected secretary. Bridger will continue his duties as program chairman.

The speaker Friday will be Sheriff Deputy E. F. Kohl of the Sheriff's Juvenile Division.

The club meets each Friday noon at Michael's and males are invited to attend.

Tax Subvention Would Be Higher Than Estimate

Frank Armstrong, local attorney and leading proponent for incorporation of Lemon Grove, said Tuesday that he had obtained an unofficial total of the number of registered voters within the boundaries of the L.G. school district.

Charles Sexton, county registrar of voter had estimated the present number to be 10,600, Armstrong said.

Armstrong said the registered voter total is multiplied by 3 to get the population total.

Lemon Grove would have a total of 31,000 instead of the estimated 25,000 population and as a result, a greater amount of tax money would come to it as an incorporated city by way of tax subventions than had been estimated until now.

Safety Check Lane Here Set For Feb. 13th-15th

A free auto check lane will be conducted here February 13, 14 and 15 when local members of the auto industries join with highway safety officials to make safety more meaningful to area motorists.

The check lane will be operated at the former Don Diego market at Broadway and Olive sits. in Lemon Grove under the sponsorship of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce.

Testing will be conducted from 10 'till 2, Feb. 13 and 14, and from 10 'til 4 on the 15.

While the tests have the blessing of the California Highway Patrol and the County Sherriff's Traffic Safety Department, and officers will be present to give assistance, no citations will be issued regardless of the condition of the car. Everyone who drives through the lane will be issued a sticker and an inspection check chart showing the parts malfunctioning.

"It is hoped that the owners of the cars beneath safe standards will have repairs and adjustments made," Pat Grace, chairman of the group said.

Don Johns, chairman of the group's action committee, said 50 prizes will be given to motorists taking the 15 minute tour through the check lane.

Added to the list of officials this week was Ronald T. Field, assistant director of the S.D. County Traffic Safety Council. Council's check charts will be used in the lane, Johns said. To be checked are wipers, horn. mirror, all glass, tires, muffler, lights, brakes, petals and steering mechanism.

On the committee, in addition to Grace, Johns and Field, are CHP Patrolmen Edward Widholm and John Annis, Jack Durham, John Dail, Martin Heil, Asst. Fire Chief Fred Dixon and Rolla Hamilton.

Also Molly Mouillesseaux, Clarence Scheidle, Norman Flannery, Dave Rutter, Dick Canfield and Fire Chief Pappy Hensley and Sheriff's Sergeant Wayne Bailey.

Mt. Helix Group Fights Subdivision On Lot Reduction

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Residents from the south slope of Mt. Helix packed the Board of Supervisors chambers Tuesday to fight a subdivider's attempts to extend a small lot subdivision past the present end of Tropico dr., but received little to give them hope of winning their battle.

Pat Hyndman, of 9475 Tropico dr., led the group that asked denial of a request by the Brock Construction Co. for a zone reclassification from a half-acre minimum lot size, to a 10,000 square foot minimum.

Hyndman said that although all of the people opposing the rezoning now live within the area permitting small lots, their homes are placed on large lots. He said that a move is under way to return the zoning to half-acres.

The property owners also fought the use of Tropico as a main traffic access for the subdivision.

Allen Ring, spokesman for the subdivider, said that the rezoning would only allow the building of two additional homes over what is allowed by present zoning, but would allow more uniform development of the site.

Hyndman contended that the reclassification would set a precedent that might lead to a further rezoning of the entire subdivision, which is now said to be planned for half-acre sites on all but the six lots proposed for reclassification.

The supervisors closed the hearing and took the matter under advisement.

S.V. Youth Killed When Car Drops

A Spring Valley teen-ager was killed Saturday when an auto he was working on fell off the jack and crushed him to death.

Curtis Dace, 18, son of Eligo and Mary Teague, of 8908 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, was th victim of the accident.

The Coroner's office said Teague was working on the car at his home with friends who left at noon. At 1:25 p.m. they returned and found the car on Teague's chest.

They jacked the car up and called the Spring Valley Fire Department. Teague was dead on arrival at 2:20 p.m. at Paradise Valley Hospital.

Bus Schedule Unchanged Here

New bus schedules were in effect in San Diego county this week but Lemon Grove and Spring Valley routes were not changed.

Buses through the two communities will continue leaving La Mesa every hour on the half hour arriving here a few minutes later. The exceptions are those starting in Lemon Grove at 5:37 a.m. and 6 a.m. weekdays and one leaving Lemon Grove at 6:22 p.m.

An increase in fare went into effect in November. Cutbacks on lines other than those listed above became effective Monday.

Finder Keeper, Loser To Get Two Rewards

Earlier this month fire destroyed a truck belonging to Trico Floors, Imperial and North in Lemon Grove.

By the time the fire department was notified the interior of the truck was ablaze.

Later, a pair of spectacles and an upper set of dentures were found in the truck. They were believed to have been left behind by a drunk who occupied the truck at night and who dropped a lighted cigarette behind the upholestry.

Joe Payson, one of the three owners of the flooring firm, said a reward will be given to the loser, if he will come to claim his property.

The sheriff's department probably has a reward for him, too.

San Altos School Bid Is $20,000 Under Estimate

The bid on Lemon Grove's San Altos school came in almost $20,000 lower than the estimate and the contract will be given to L. A. Gagnon Construction Co. of S.D., the L.G. School Board decided Monday night. The bid will have to first be approved by county counsel, and when it is done, work will begin in about two weeks. Bids ranged from Gagnon's low to a high of $76,000. Completion is planned in time for school opening in September.

The board adopted the 1964-65 calendar. It will have the same number of teaching days as the preceding year — 178. School will start Sept. 14.

Byron Netzley, district superintendent was authorized to make an application for $79,000 in Federal Impact Funds. Netzley said the money was voted but none had been appropriated yet.

He also explained that a new teacher would be added next year to accomodate the Spanish language teaching in grades 6, 7 and 8. This year it was taught in the 8th grade at Palm jr. hi. Foreign language will be mandatory in the three grades in 1965 and the added teacher, a language consultant, will be the step toward setting the program in motion as required by law.

Hold-Up Nets $1,800 In La Mesa

The La Mesa Bank of America at La Mesa blvd. and Lemon ave. was robbed of $1,828 during the noon lull Monday.

The last La Mesa hold-up was said to have been 35 years ago.

The bandit was described as calm, burly and balding. He pointed a gun at Mrs. Gloria Herald, 35, of 623 Burnham st., El Cajon, at 12:40 p.m. and showed her a note which read:

"This is a hold up. I have a gun."

He then told her to give him the money and showed her the butt of a large gun stuck in the waistband of his trousers, Mrs. Herald told the FBI.

A. B. "Bus" Arnett, manager and vice president of the bank said Mrs. Herald, a teller, who had been with the bank only six months, cleaned the drawer out completely and handed it to the man.

The bandit was described as slightly taller than six feet, 30-35 years old and weighing more than 200 pounds. He has blue eyes, was clean shaven and wore a brown packet.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Who Likes Hoover?

What is it like to be unloved and unwanted?

Maybe J. Edgar Hoover could tell.

The communists don't want him. First among the avowed objectives of communist-orientated organizations is to discredit Hoover.

In reading booklets sent to this newspaper, and all others, by the John Birch Society, we learn that they don't want him either.

We cite the above to show that extremist groups, although worlds apart, can be caught holding hands behind your back.

Few readers are not already aware that the right and left forces meet as the objectives of these groups are fully explored. Readers agree, too, that the FBI, with J. Edgar Hoover as its head, is a force of good against evil and for morality against immorality.

Consequently, his remarks were meaningful when he made them a few weeks ago in New York as he received the For God and Youth medal of the Catholic Youth Organization. In them Hoover's philosophy is outlined in better language and fewer words than we have ever heard. From a transcript of that speech in the current issue of the FBI Law Enforcement

MASS PICKETING — Mass picketing came to Lemon Grove Sunday when six working barbers-owners paced to and fro on the sidewalk at Oscar's 3143 Imperial ave. adjacent the L.G. Food Basket market.
Oscar Gibbon, owner of the shop, said as many as ten pickets marched in front of his shop.
Patrick Birch, west coast international representative of the Journeyman Barbers International Union of America, AFL-CIO, said the picketing is to close all barber shops in S.D. County on Sundays. He said Oscar's, though non-union, is not being picketed for union organizing. "We want to close all shops on Sunday so that men can spend Sunday with their families."
Jim Van Norden, one of the picketers who operates a shop in Lomita Village said "I've cut hair 60 hours so far this week and I'll be here to picket all day. I'm tired but I volunteered."
Gibbon is reported to have said that business was a little off Sunday but it could have been the cold weather. Birch said when the picketing hurts enough the shop will be a six day shop. Birch also reemphasized that the picketing was not a part of union organizing to bring Oscar's into the union.

"THE CHURCH"

When the "Church" is mentioned, the first thought which comes to our minds is that of a building. The church as a building is the most important building in the community. The building itself is a symbol of faith. In one way or another, it reminds everyone passing by that they must meet God.

Coin cakes will be placed in restaurants, bakeries, bowling alleys, beauty shops, and other commercial areas throughout the county where customers can punch coins into them as a donation to fight heart disearse.

"Most of the ingredients (for instance, 50 lbs. baking powder, 900 lbs. flour) and materials have been donated and the members of the Retail Bakers Association have given their time and facilities to bake and decorate the cakes," said H. A. Griffith, coin cake chairman.

"The cakes are prepared from a special batter made to stand up under many layers of coins and stay fresh for over a month. Although they are not really edible, the bakers can truthfully say that this is a cake," according to D. L. Saville, president, Retail Bakers Association.

After Heart Month, the cakes will be displayed in the window of Thearle's Music Store before they are steamblasted, cleaned of coins, and the total collected tabulated.

William C. Faulwetter — Seeks Congressional Seat

S.V. Attorney's Hat In Congressional Ring

William C. Faulwetter, attorney and Spring Valley resident, with law offices in La Mesa, announced himself as a Republican candidate for the House of Representatives from the 37th Congressional District. The district is located in Southeastern San Diego County and includes Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. Present incumbent is Democrat Lionel Van Deerlin. The primary is in June.

Faulwetter said that the threatened closing of the San Diego Naval Repair Facility, coupled with continued hard core unemployment in San Diego County has made residents of the 37th Congressional District acutely aware that they can no longer afford the luxury of inept and innocuous representation in Washington.

"The incumbent, Mr. Van Deerlin, was elected on the strength of his promises that, as a Democrat working with a Democratic administration, he could do more for this district. The events of recent weeks have demonstrated once again that this was wishful thinking by Mr. Van Deerlin. The only effective presentation of San Diego County's case regarding the repair facility has been made by our Republican Congressman, Bob Wilson, and it is my hope to participate in that work," Faulwetter said.

Faulwetter, 35, is married and has one daughter. He has been a San Diego County resident since coming here with his family in 1938. He is a graduate of St. Augustine High School. He attended S.D. State and was graduated from the U. of Cal. at Berkley. He saw active naval service during the Korean War and remains active in the Naval Reserve, holding the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

Upon his release from active duty, Faulwetter entered Stanford Law School, from which he received the LLB degree. Since admission to the Bar, Faulwetter has been employed by a San Diego bank as a trust administrator and later as a deputy county counsel in the office of the County Counsel of San Diego. For the past three years he has engaged in the private practice of law in La Mesa.

He is presently a director of the Spring Valley Fire District and is a member of the American Bar Assn., State Bar and San Diego County Bar Assn. and the Lions Club.

Faulwetter has been active in past Republican campaigns.

Officers E. Redman and N. Crawford found Masters and a 13-year-old Spring Valley youth in the car after flashing a searchlight on the parked vehicle. Dear Editor:

We feel the issue of religion in education is vital. We believe it can best be met by a thoughtful citizenry armed with facts and understanding of the basic issues at stake. Therefore, we deplore the atmosphere of hostility which is developing in our community around this important issue, as evidenced at the public hearing of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education on Monday, Jan. 13. Such actions and attitudes are not conductive to the reasoned and sensitive treatment that such an issue demands, nor the way to conduct our democracy.

Because we firmly believe in the sacred position of religion in our lives, we concur with the Supreme Court that "each separate government in this country should stay out of the business of writing or sanctioning official prayers and leave that purely religious function to the people themselves and to those the people choose to look to for religious guidance. (Engle vs. Vitale 1962). We support this individual right of each child to pray his own private prayers as he wishes both in and out of public school and we desire to protect this basic personal freedom from invasion by federal, state or local authorities.

We call on the Board of Education of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District to act according to the dictates of their conscience as they consider our traditional separation of church and state, the interests of the individual rights of our children, and the law of the land as interpreted by the Supreme Court, the State Board of Education and the County Counsel.

The DIMMER VIEW

Bulletin we are reprinting the section that we thought particularly effective.

Said Hoover:

"Mortal enemies of freedom and deniers of God Himself conspire to undermine the fundamental forces which are the lifeline of our country's vitality and greatness — our most formidable weapons, in peace and in war.

"What are these forces? They are:

"INDIVIDUALISM — inherit dignity and worth of every sovereign individual with his personal rights and responsibilities.

"COURAGE — the courage of a free people firmly dedicated to the noblest cause.

"INTEGRITY — that quality of trustworthiness which is essential in dealings between men, and between countries.

"DISCIPLINE — and self-discipline, which are vital in a nation governed by laws rather than by men.

"VISION — such as led our founding fathers into the perilous dangers of a hostile wilderness that was to become the proud American Republic in which we live today."

These are fine words, worthy of being clipped and saved. To be read again and again whenever the purveyors of doubt make noises so loud that we question the principles we believed to be true and honest.

Sober Study Of Real Estate Integration Will Be Useful

A sober study of integration is taking place this week in Los Angeles under the direction of the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Race Relations and Urban Problems.

We prefer the more realistic approach this Committee is taking to the ones sponsored by wild-eyed extremists who claim the issue is black-and-white, if you'll forgive the analogy.

The bulling through of legislation and an attempt to enforce the laws to the letter, has resulted in violence. That it brought about a race revolution sooner no one will deny, but let them not deny also that it also brought violence.

The Senate Committee will attempt to find the nature and extent of discrimination in sales and rentals by the builder, broker, owner and landlord.

Most important, we feel, is the specific attention the Committee intends to devote to the causes of prejudice itself — or what motivates a person to discriminate.

Among these factors coming under review will be:

1. Family and cultural influences;
2. Lack of contact and understanding between races;
3. Unpleasant personal experiences with persons of other races;
4. Homeowner's apprehension of loss of property values;
5. Builder's apprehension of selling other house in tract;
6. Landlord's apprehension of difficulty in renting other apartments and doubt of proposed tenant's financial responsibility.

Among other considerations will be the "flight to the suburbs", "panic selling" problems and the effect of "blockbusting".

Since the Committee is going to face the whole gamut of problems concerning integrated real estate it is likely that the issues will be presented more equitably. If such is the case, emotions should not get so high as to encourage violence from the legislation that might ensue from this study.

In any event, society is being better served by studious consideration than changed by mandate. We suspect that many Negroes would rebel if they had to change their habit pattern of living by force because human reaction is the same and the numerical size of the race won't change this reaction.

SOPRANO TO SING

The Grossmont Community Concert Association is presenting for its third artist concert of the season, Phyllis Curtin, soprano. The concert will be held in the Grossmont High School Auditorium, Monday, Feb. 10 at 8:15 p.m.

The New York Times wrote after her metropolitan opera debut performance in Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte", "Miss Curtin is well known as one of the finest artists around. Her performance as Fiordiligi was of the kind that has come to be expected of her. The voice is lovely and the purity of tone that is its distinguishing feature gives projective power to anything the singer does."

Mt. Miguel Parent Teachers Association will be host to the American Field Service participants in Mt. Miguel gymnasium Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be under the direction of Hartland Area District AFS. Mrs. Dwight Putnam is chairman.

The program will include presentation of exchange students presently attending local schools. Musical and cultural material will also be offered.

Mt. Miguel finalist candidates for next year's Americans Abroad Program are:

The $700 needed to bring each exchange student to Mt. Miguel is raised in several different ways. The adult chapter of AFS has an annual rummage sale, the student chapter of AFS sponser the "Nickel a Month" drive throughout the school year, and various community organizations make contributions.

School Election Changed to April

Recent state legislation has forced the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District to change the date of a bond and state aid election to April 7.

District Superintendent Reports On Local School Dropout Problem

Grossmont High School District Citizens' Advisory Committee members last week heard District Superintendent Lewis F. Smith and Mrs. Portia Goode, district trustee, discuss the school dropout problem as related to the Grossmont District. A report on the 1963 dropout rate shows 4.09% of the 14,000 students enrolled in district high schools dropped out.

Efforts to solve the dropout problem are moving in several directions. One is a project in conjunction with the California Department of Employment where a specialist is assigned to help them get jobs. However, this is more easily said than done, for those dropout students are practically unemployable, in the present market, without a high school diploma.

Out of 17 referrals in 1963, the Department of Employment counselor was able to place only two.

In the project, the district tried to contact 160 dropouts and reached 145. Forty-five of them had found the need for more schooling and were channeled either to junior college vocational programs or to adult school classes where they could earn high school diplomas.

Another feature of this project is the collection of information about the how and why dropouts occur, in the hope that the causes can be determined and attacked early. Efforts made to determine reasons for dropouts reveal that there is rarely one reason, that what the dropout says is the reason is only part of the picture and may not be true at all. Research also often shows the dropout to be emotionally disturbed, and now solutions to this portion of the problem can be sought.

Another direction in which efforts to lower the dropout rate is moving is toward a strengthened curriculum, particularly in vocational education, in special ized counseling which will reveal the potential dropout early and seek means of retraining him in school.

Teen-Age Syndrome

Communications Possible Through The 'Teen-Age 'Berlin Wall'?

By Jordan Detzer

Can we adults get through to teen-agers? Can teen-agers get through to us?

This is a new orientation chat on the growth of youth, revealing some of their manners of progress as they mature from stage to stage.

It is also an open invitation for adults and teens alike to participate in sharing their concerns in a local "Dr. Barbour Column", where we can share concrete behavior trends, oddities of our customs and culture differences in sex, temperaments, mental traits, and what went on last night at Oscars after the basketball game and on the dead-end street.

How can we keep the lines of communication open between teen-agers and their parents — and among themselves? This is the purpose of this article.

Let's allow teen-agers to enjoy themselves, their surroundings, their parents. We can talk for hours about coming in at night, going steady, responsibilities, picking up clothes, straightening room, hassles about the family car, touchiness, telephone sharing, girls, boys, . . . just little unresolved conflicts that bark loudly in the conscious minds of many parents.

Talk Wanted

Good parents want their youths to talk things over — all kinds of things. Conversation is the most cherished thing on earth because it adds to the bond between parent and youth which both need.

Most teens stand on their own two feet and work things out for themselves without running to their parents. They are building desirable independence. Yet there are times when friendly chats are precious to both. This column will try to analyze some of the conflicts in helping youth understand themselves in a period when they must cope with heavy pressures, and making important choices for which they do not always have the needed resources.

Working with youth I have heard them confide these choice bromides:

"I can't talk things over with mother. She always takes over and starts preaching to me".

"My parents never want to listen: they always want to advise and dictate."

"Dad always seems too busy to really listen." "I'd just like to talk things over with Mom and Dad sometimes, but they always want to pry." "They don't understand me . . ."

Change Is Rapid

Its always hard for one generation to put itself in the shoes of the next one and understand their needs. This is especially true in a dynamic society such as ours in which rapid-fire social exchange alter living drastically from what we parents faced.

When my children started wearing my shoes and ties, and began speaking about the B-20 I used to fly as "covered wagon days when propellors were for the Wright brothers", then, ah then, friends, you realize we adults have matured . . . Perhaps it behooves us to use our ears more and our tongues less, maintaining a good basis for talking things over with teen agers.

Let this column be available to help teeners face fears, guilt, anxieties. We won't be red-faced or hush-hush about giving you direct advice.

We want to listen, understand and answer.

We won't hurl degrading epithets at teachers, officials or shout ugly thoughts in your direction.

Berlin Wall

We want to get through your Berlin Wall — if just only for a Christmas vacation, long enough to share, rejoice and learn, to lower barriers, defenses and share ideas. Out of this comes successful living; greater depth of maturity, and a lessening of tensions and hostility.

Youth can increase their faith for living, and push their little "row-boat personality" out on the ocean of life, and arrive where they are going in safety.

Others have done it. You can too.

A closing poem from Roy Burkhart —

"Understanding Youth"
"Youth awaits leadership
Youth seeks the fuller life
Youth needs to be commanded
Youth dreams, hopes, dares.
Youth will follow someone
Youth will be devoted to something —
Who will provide that leadership?
How will youth find the fuller life?
Who will command youth?
Will the dreams and hopes of youth
Lead him forward with God or not?
Will youth dare to be Christian?
Who will lead youth
Christ or the forces of the lesser life"?

We have the motives to help. Hoist up your flags for help. We'll write a question or answer, God willing.

J. E. Detzer

Benefits of Rain and Streams In Northern Area of California Flow to Other Parts of State

By William E. Warne

(This is the fifth of a series of six articles on California water development by the director of the California State Department of Water Resources who had administered resource development programs for state federal and international government since 1935.)

SACRAMENTO — The North Coast of California may not always consider its heavy rains and gushing streams an unmixed blessing, but with millions of eyes turning enviously in that direction the importance of these waters as resources of the state is being made clear.

Right now most of the people of California drink water imported from distant rivers. Water from the Mokelumne River issues from taps in San Francisco, and the Tuolumne supplies the cities of the East Bay. Los Angeles reaches to Mono Basin and San Diego to Lake Havasu in the Colorado River.

It is almost an axiom that newcomers in any California city (outside the North Coast) drive the water works manager one step nearer to a bigger pipe to some source from which water may be imported.

Those who do not have to reach beyond the local water supplier escape the necessity by drilling a new well instead of laying a longer pipe to some distant stream.

In most areas now the one who drills the new well is borrowing, too, for many of the ground water basins are being overdrawn. More water is being pumped out of them than is being placed in them by nature.

Wells continually have to be deepened as the ground water level recedes. These water users are importing water from a distance in time rather than a distance measured in miles.

Fortunately, California has ample waters to meet the needs of its people today and to support the anticipated great growth. The problem is one of capturing these waters in reservoirs, and redistributing them through aqueducts.

The State Water Project is the greatest effort made to date to answer this problem. It was planned to supply the needs of deficient areas until 1990. After that it was expected that another solution — another project — would be sought.

Planners have kept right on, despite the adoption of the State Water Project, testing calculations of how needs in the more distant future could be met.

They have measured every river and tributary on the North Coast and tramped all of its meadows.

They have identified, and even named, all the damsites.

They have cast appraising eyes at the thickness of mountain ranges, estimated the length of needed tunnels.

They have set the results down in long columns of figures and drawn them on multicolored maps.

Now they are able to announce that 12,000,000 acre-feet of water excess to the needs of potential local developments can be safely and economically exported from the North Coast.

This statement appearing in the Preview Report of Bulletin No. 136 is a great reassurance. It promises all North Coastal areas that they shall have water when they need it as they grow and develop.

It tells the rest of the people of California that the state has the resources to satisfy growing needs well into the future. The year 2020 means the future 57 years away.

When said "twenty-twenty", it also describes perfect vision, but none of us working in the water field will claim so sharp a vision of our state 57 years from now as to be able to plan the specific water works that will then be needed.

We can say with assurance, however, that we have resurces to meet those needs.

The longer that arises to greet any proposed new water diversion is like buzzing of bees distrubed in a hive, aimless excitement.

These are the means of appraising the plans, of laying their demands down against known quantities of water available, and of answering doubts.

These means are found between the covers of the bulletins of the Department of Water Resources, which, as the planning work progresses, get ever more precise.

LADYBUG FACTORY CLOSES

After producing more than 25 million ladybugs over a 45-year year period, the San Diego County Insectary at 511 G st., Chula Vista, closes this month, James M. Moon, county agricultural commissioner, has announced.

Ladybugs produced at the insectary have been supplied to growers to control infestations of mealybugs, a pest of citrus. Grower demand in recent years for this predator has declined significantly.

Commonly known as "Crypts", the ladybugs were introduced into California from Australia in 1891. Although these beneficial insects will no longer be available from a county insectary, Moon believes other means, such as chemical and control, will prevent heavy buildup of the pest.

The 4th Annual District Round-up at Camp Davidson, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 is proof positive that business and pleasure can be combined. Though the primary purpose of the outing is to initiate creative activity for Girl Scout programming, there is no reason the leaders can't have fun too. ## A Cheering Crowd Expected to Attend Day-Long Clinic at Mount Miguel High

Students from more than eighty junior and senior high schools will have a chance to practice their cheering techniques Feb. 8 at Mount Miguel High.

A clinic running from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., will give attending "pepmakers" instruction on fundamentals and new ideas in cheer and songleading under the direction of Bill Horan of Miami, president and founder of the American Cheerleading Association. Points to be covered range from basic formations at the start of yell routines to uses of crowd psychology and attention getters.

The latest ideas on uniforms and equipment will also be covered. "The basic uniform for girls has become a pleated skirt and a bulky sweater while the boys are keeping to bermudas and a sweater," commented Mrs. Charlene Starkey, advisor of Miguel's pep squad. Mrs. Starkey's group, headed by Kathy Herbener, will be aiding Horan during the clinic by demonstrating various routines and yells. The songleading portion of the clinic will be taught by Kathy Herbener.

A reasonable amount of athletic ability and rhythm is necessary for cheerleading," added Mrs. Starkey, "but you need not be a gymnast". Participants in the clinic will be given an opportunity to rehearse their repertoire of cheers in addition to learning new yells and routines. Throughout, the "pep-makers" will keep limber by practicing the seven basic jumps, forward and side lunges, and the different knee bends used in cheerleading.

Casual clothes and tennis shoes are the dress of the day and those who plan on attending are asked to bring a pencil and paper for notetaking. Mount Miguel's boosters club will have sandwiches and pop on sale at lunch time, but the cafeteria will not be open. "In past years Miguel has used the clinic as a kick-off for cheer training, but it is coming too early this year to be used for this purpose," stated Mrs. Starkey. She added that the clinic gives students insight into the work and time required of a cheerleader and it prepares the way for the rigors of the training later on.

CANARY CONTEST — Frank Krebs of Lemon Grove displays ribbons and trophies won by four of his canaries at a contest last week in Paramount, Calif. Krebs, who lives in a trailer park at 7070 Broadway, has been breeding birds since 1908. At the German Roller Contest last week his birds won first place for teams of four birds and first place for a single bird. They also won other first, second and third place awards. Krebs said the birds were judged only for their singing.

Schrade Sees State-Anti-initiative Tie-up

Republican Senator Jack Schrade accused Governor Brown and those opposed to the initiative constitutional amendment to protect property rights of "attempting to get the public's eye off the ball through a series of diversionary tactics."

Schrade said that the real issue is the right of the people to express themselves on the proposed amendment. In a speech in San Diego Thursday he said: "I do not agree with those who argue that they favor use of the initiative only on subjects with which they agree. The people alone are competent to judge when they desire to use this constitutionally guaranteed power. They have a right to use it every time they want to."

The Senator again assailed Governor Brown and his administration for attempting to use the power of government to suppress the initiative petitions. He cited a letter released by the California Committee for Fair Practices, a group which adopted a budget of $25,000 with which to fight the initiative for a six week period.

Schrade said that the letter head of the committee listed a number of persons prominent in the Brown administration, including Nathaniel S. Colley, former Brown appointee to the State Board of Education; William Becker, assistant to Gov. Brown on human rights; State Controller Alan Cranston; and John Anson Ford, a member of the State Fair Employment Practices Commission.

People's Right

"If we believe in the American democratic system," Schrade said, "we must acknowledge that it is the right of the people to tell the government what to do. It is not up to the government to tell the people. When the government tells the people what to do and think, we have a dictatorship," Schrade said.

The Senator predicted that the initiative constitutional amendment will qualify and be approved by the people. He praised Judge Irving Perluss of Sacramento for ruling in favor of the right of the people to vote on the amendment.

Schrade said that the diversionary tactics to which he referred were "use of the power of government to attempt to intimidate petition signers and real estate licensees, threats of violence by civil rights groups, and name calling by those opposed to the initiative.

"I predict," he said, "that these tactics will continue to fail, as they have failed in the past. I agree with Abraham Lincoln who said that 'The people are always much nearer the truth than politicians suppose'."

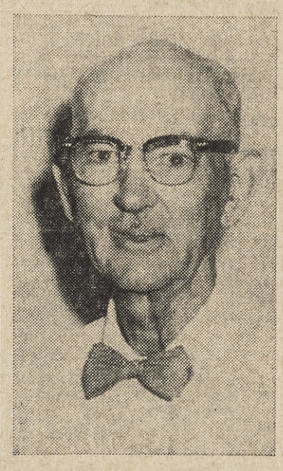
Marshall Joins Brouillard In Growth Move

An expansion program which includes the adding of a well-known hardware business figure to the firm's personnel, was announced this week by Louis Brouillard, operator of a hardware store bearing his name at 7846 Broadway in Lemon Grove.

Simultaneously, Brouillard announced the addition of 750 square feet of floor space to his store. The addition, to be used as a warehouse, is already under construction.

The new associate, Robert L. Marshall, a former owner of the Resner Hardware, has also owned and operated a store in Euclid Plaza. Last year he went into semi-retirement.

Marshall is a Charter member of the Southeastern Kiwanis club and a former member of the El Cajon Elks club.



Brouillard said he brought Marshall into the firm because of the improving business climate in Lemon Grove.

Brouillard said the added storage space was needed because "our business has increased to three times what it was last year. We'll add the needed sales and display space by the amount we gain in the storage facility at the rear of our building."

Brouillard said that the increased volume at his store was mainly due to two things. One of these is varied inventory. "We say 'yes' 95% of the time," he explained.

"I think another one of the secrets of being successful in the retail field is to give service. The big, discount store doesn't deal with the customer on a personal basis. We do.

"In most instances, price is only an illusion. If the customer pays less at a discount house, often he is getting less quality, too.

"Most customers come to a hardware store with a statement like: 'I've got a broken door nob at home. How do I fix it?'"

"Personal service is when you tell 'em how to fix it; show them what is most likely to work, and explain that it will be exchanged if it isn't the kind that fits," Brouillard said. conducted to empty the present storage room. As the new room is completed it will be replenished from hardware items now on order.

Jack Clagett

Clagett Gets Lincoln Finance Veep Post

Jack C. Clagett, who has managed the Lincoln Finance Co., 7854 Golden ave., Lemon Grove, for the past year, was appointed this week to the position of vice-president and general manager, according to Thomas Clayton, the firm's president.

Lincoln Finance is the oldest consumer finance company in Lemon Grove, Clayton pointed out. Clagett will be able to draw on his 14 years of experience in the consumer finance industry, Clayton added.

Clagett is a native of Cambridge, Ohio, who moved to this area in 1948. He and his wife Olga and their children have resided in the Lake Murray section of La Mesa for many years.

Lincoln Finance is a privately owned firm making cash loans ranging from $25 to $1,500 to qualified individuals on wages, autos and furniture, Clayton said.

Donovan Claims Brown Will Hold Back School Aid

School administrators were told by Republican Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan not to expect the governor to increase the state support of local schools beynd the $25 million currently earmarked for that purpose.

"The governor will withhold the $75 million reserved in the present budget for local school aid unless he gets his program of countywide taxation through the coming session of the legislature," Donovan said.

"I'm sure that the senate will again defeat this measure as they did during the general session last year. Support for his program just isn't there."

Donovan made his prediction during a two-hour luncheon meeting last week with the administrators from five school districts and Southwestern Junior College. In a free-wheeling discussion, Donovan and the school officials discussed matters of financing, state mandated curricula, and unification of school districts. Much of the dicussion centered on Donovan's observations on the mood of the California Legislature and the probable trend of future legislation.

"I can't visualize the governor changing his mind on the $25 million. He told me flatly, at a meeting we had in Sacramento last month, there would be no addtional money forthcoming without reforms in the present system of school financing. San Diego's school districts will have to "make do" with what has already been allocated."

To a criticism that the legislature mandates certain courses without providing the funding, Donovan replied that only a constitutional amendment could change that and he saw little likelihood for its passage. "The same situation exists in other areas. We set court salaries and staffing and let the counties worry about where to get the funds," he explained. "I agree it's unfair to do so, but I don't hold out much hope for any change." The school administrators were specifically concerned about the foreign language requirement set by the legislature.

Local Young Republicans Discuss Lemon Grove Incorporation Plans

Incorporation was the principle topic of discussion at the Young Republican meeting held at the home of the new president, Mrs. Ronald K. Dethman, on Jan. 20.

While not taking a position on incorporation, the membership agreed that Lemon Grove residents should have the opportunity to decide whether or not they wish to incorporate. They voted unanimously to urge their friends and acquaintances to sign the petition which will make it possible for this matter to be placed on the ballot.

Guest speaker, Herb Sichler, administrative assistant to Assemblyman Richard Donovan, predicted that Governor Brown will renew his fight for the adoption of a withholding tax and a countywide equalization tax, and will push for more extensive welfare aid and for a gun control law. Sichler pointed out that it was a Republican who had been able to postpone the closing of the San Diego Naval Facility.

A resolution to "urge our elected representatives to resist all pressures which may be applied in an effort to have us relinquish our rights to the Panama Canal" was unanimously adopted.

Chuck Blair, county YR chairman, gave a brief talk pertaining to the YR State Convention which will be held in San Diego Feb. 14, 15 and 16.

All members residing in Lemon Grove agreed to take part in a voter census canvass for the Republican precinct organization of Lemon Grove.
